

2017 Risk Management Symposium
Know the Risks. Reap the Rewards.
October 4 & 5, 2017 | Westin Prince Hotel, North York

Five years ago, LAS and Frank Cowan Company launched the first Risk Management Symposium. Since then the business of municipal government has adapted to the needs of their citizens and so has the risks associated with it. The Symposium continues to look at timely and relevant topics, and this year is no exception.

Who Should Attend?

If you are involved in risk management at the municipal staff level or just have an interest in understanding what you should be looking at when making decisions then this is an event you do not want to miss. The Symposium is open to:

- Municipal Elected Officials and Individuals working in:
- Risk Management
- Compliance
- IT and Finance
- Quantitative Analysis

What You Will Learn?

The 1.5 day Symposium will challenge the way you work and will provide you with innovative tools and techniques to help your municipality manage risk on a daily basis.

October 4: Plenary Sessions include:

- Digital Government: What You Need to Know Now
- Down the Rabbit Hole: Reviewing and Understanding IT contracts
- Data Security and Preventing the Hack
- Droning On: Drones and Privacy

October 5: Concurrent Sessions include:

- Along the Paths: An Interactive Look at Trails, Pathways and Other Outdoor Considerations
- Stop the Monetary Hemorrhage: Managing Claims from Start to Finish
- Don't Invite Murphy to Your Next Event! What to Add to Your Municipal Event Contingency Plan

With multiple networking opportunities, this is a unique opportunity for you to discuss the current state of risk management; plan for the future; and how as a sector we can better mitigate risk over time.
